

Artmospheric Festival 2011

July 21-24th, Stara planina, Tchemernik biofarm

For its fifth edition, the festival returns to its home – the heart of the western part of the Stara planina mountains (Balkan Mountains). The area around the Trastena chalet and bio farm Tchemernik is known for its double rainbows, its mystical fogs and panoramic sunny views. At the end of July, four days of inspiration in the nature with smiling and creative people from Bulgaria and abroad await us there.

During the years, Artmospheric Festival has evolved as a regional leading event for intelligent experimental electronic music and alternative culture. It is also the first Bulgarian open air, which regularly takes care of the separation and recycling of its waste.

The Artmospheric Festival crew continues this year its search for an appropriate format of an independent and sustainable mountain festival. Main focus in the music programme will be on idm, ambient, dub, deep & dub techno, progressive & psy trance, ambient techno, while the listening comfort will be guaranteed by a crystal clear Funktion-One sound system. Due to the non-commercial character of the event, when buying a pre-sale ticket, you become an integral part of the interactive creation of the festival and contribute to form its dimensions and programme.

Tickets are available now on eventim.bg. Pre-sale schedule:

- first 50 pre-sale tickets: 20 bgn (€10);
